THEOBALD SMITH SOCIETY

Thank you for your interest in the Theobald Smith Society. We are a branch of the American Society for Microbiology and are in the top 25% of the branch organizations by size and activity. We take our name from a prominent microbiologist who lived and worked in New Jersey. Meetings are generally held on the third Thursday of the month and for the past few years have been held at 6:30 PM on the Cook College campus of Rutgers University, although the location may vary and is confirmed in the newsletter prior to each meeting. A complimentary light buffet precedes the meeting beginning at 6PM. We publish a newsletter several times a year with meeting reminders and abstracts of the lectures, information of interest to members, and a position available/position desired column which is open to all members and to corporate sponsors of the society. We also have a TSS homepage with links to national ASM and to our corporate sponsors, a list of our officers, and all the info found in the newsletter as well as historical information about the Society. I think you will be pleased with the benefits of membership.

Checks should be made payable to the Theobald Smith Society. Don't forget to sign your check, or to stamped the envelope. Thank you for your interest in and support of the Theobald Smith Society.
